About Shopping for Guatemalan Textiles

Guatemala is a shopping paradise for textile lovers and collectors. "Traje Maya", the colorful and intricate traditional Maya style of clothing, combines weaving and the use of symbolism. It includes: The hand-embroidered huipil – a loose fitting tunic like blouse; The woven corte – a large piece of cloth wrapped around the woman's waist as a skirt; The faja – a wide, elaborately embroidered belt used to hold the skirt in place; And the tocoyal – an intricately woven hair wrap. Over the centuries, towns and regions have developed their own distinct weaving patterns and color palettes. Today, international designers seek vintage hand embroidered pieces of Guatemala's indigenous textile art to repurpose into soft furnishings and fashion accessories.

About The Copper Canyon Train

The Copper Canyon consists of a series of canyons with a combined size seven times greater than America's Grand Canyon. The Chihuahua-Pacifico Railway, a marvel of engineering, took over 90 years to construct. It traverses the Copper Canyon while connecting Mexico's central desert with the Pacific Ocean. The train is operated by Ferrocarril Mexicano. The same Copper Canyon rail route is used by passenger and freight trains alike. In the rare event of a train stoppage, Caravan will make alternative arrangements.

Train Safety, Comfort, and Enjoyment

Caravan has privately chartered an entire train car for your train ride. For your safety, all of the seats in your train car are exclusively reserved for Caravan. For your comfort, your train car is air-conditioned and has more seats than there are Caravan travelers. For your enjoyment, your Copper Canyon train ride is scheduled in the daytime, providing the best lighting for views and photography. Occasionally, the train can be delayed for a couple of hours.

Motorcoach Rides

The unique destinations of El Fuerte and Barrancas, where you board and disembark the Copper Canyon train, can only be reached by long motorcoach rides. The following travel times do not include sightseeing, lunch and rest stops, border crossings, and unexpected traffic delays: Day 2 = 8 hours; Day 3 = 5 hours; Day 6 = 5 hours; Day 7 = 5 hours.
